

2,060 Killed by
Terrific Earthquake
In Chinese Province

42 Dead, 200 Injured and
500 Made Homeless in Albania; New Volcano Is Reported in Argentina

TOKIO, Dec. 23.—A Shanghai dispatch to the Asahi Shimbun reports a terrific earthquake in Kansu Province on December 16, with casualties estimated at 2,000.

The seismograph at Georgetown University, Washington, was reported on December 16 as recording the most severe earth disturbance of two years.

The Rev. Father Francis A. Tondorf, director of the seismographic observatory, announced on that date a shock beginning shortly after 7 o'clock in the morning and continuing after noon. He estimated its distance from Washington at 2,800 miles, the direction indicating an east-westerly direction.

TIRANA, Albania, Dec. 23 (Delayed).—Forty-two persons were killed, 200 were injured and 500 made homeless by the recent earthquake in the Tepeleni district, it was reported today.

The small number of casualties was due to the fact that the district was thinly populated, since most of the population had left owing to the devastation suffered by the earthquake in the district during the warfare between the Albanians and Jugoslavs.

Dr. John Reynolds, of New Britain, Conn., head of the American Red Cross unit, sent to the Tepeleni area, returned today to this city. He found the roads impassable to an automobile because of fallen rocks. He used horses instead. He visited the villages affected by the earthquake and left food and medical supplies. Milk and clothing have since been sent to all the destitute children of the district.

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Dec. 24.—A lonely unvisited section of the Andes is reported by a prospector, J. Weimar, who has just returned to Mendoza, according to a report published by La Nacion today.

Weimar says that on December 17, the same day the earthquake occurred in Mendoza Province, he was near Mount Calaveras. He felt a severe earthquake shock lasting fifty seconds, which threw him to the ground. Afterward he discovered a crater emitting incandescent lava, hot water, rocks and smoke, but left immediately, not stopping to investigate.

BERLIN, Dec. 24.—The American soldiers in the German cities, who long ago established a reputation as lovers of children, have made themselves still more popular with the younger generation by collecting 500,000 marks for the poor and sick children of Coblenz and vicinity.

There was a great gathering at Coblenz tonight, where the Americans erected several large Christmas trees in the streets and planned the entertainment of hundreds of the city's children.

Coblenz, Dec. 24.—Old-fashioned home-made candy and popcorn balls, with Salvation Army doughnuts, will be distributed to every American soldier in the city.

Nine Seized in Drug Raid
On Brooklyn Saloon

Detectives of the staff of Special Deputy Police Commissioner Carleton Simon and Police detectives raided a saloon in Union Avenue, Brooklyn yesterday which they suspected was a resort for drug peddlers and addicts. After a brief fight, which most of the furniture in the back room was smashed, they arrested Joseph Carasello, of 210 Wilson Avenue, Brooklyn, on a charge of selling narcotics. He is charged with violation of the Harrison drug act.

Among the furnishings wrecked in the struggle was a guitar which hung on the wall of the room. As it struck the floor white powder rushed from the instrument. The raiders scooped up the powder and the fragments of the guitar and took them along, saying that the powder, of which there was about two pounds, was cocaine.

The evidence against the place was obtained by Detective Bernard Boylan, a recent graduate of the Police Training School, who is said to have bought heroin at the saloon.

Pope Hopes for Cardinal
Gibbons's Early Recovery

Illness of Prelate Discussed at the Christmas Party of the Pontiff

ROME, Dec. 24.—A topic which formed the principal part of the conversation at Pope Benedict's Christmas reception at the sacred college was the condition of Cardinal Gibbons, of Baltimore. Monsignor Corretti, papal under secretary of state, was frequently asked concerning the latest reports from the United States. Expressions of regret and wishes for the Cardinal's early recovery were heard everywhere.

The Pontiff recalled his pleasant interviews with Cardinal Gibbons, speaking of his exemplary piety and commanding influence. He said he had imparted the apostolic benediction and hoped soon to have better news from Monsignor Bonzano at Washington.

Cardinal de Lai, the secretary of the Consistorial Congregation, was not present at the reception today. Although somewhat better, the Cardinal has not yet entirely recovered from the slight stroke which he suffered recently.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 24.—Cardinal Gibbons spent a restless night, but was feeling better this morning, inquirers were told.

France Denies Union
With Japan on Cables

Foreign Office Says Nation Is Merely Defending Its Interests
in Controversy

PARIS, Dec. 24.—The French official view of the controversy over the former German cables was explained to The Associated Press today in a statement issued by the Foreign Office.

The American newspapers charge France with being in league with Japan against the United States in the cable question and hindering by its uncooperative attitude a settlement of the question. "We have among us men who commit vice and men who are noted for their virtue, but I think if a record were made of the contributions of the American people to the cause of justice, you will find that we are marching with our Christian brethren side by side for the purpose of strengthening the foundations of our country and for the purpose of transmitting to our posterity a country where justice, freedom and equality will always prevail."

He was taking a bath when he decided he had better pull down the window shade. In reaching for it he stepped on the soap and the next moment was sitting on the pavement. Except for a wince of shoulder he was unhurt and scuttled into the house at the earliest opportunity.

Baker Doubts $8,000,000
Coal Graft in Army Buying

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—Secretary Baker said today he did not believe army coal purchases during the recent coal stringency had enabled dealers to make a $8,000,000 profit on army contracts, as stated in the Washington Post.

He was taking a bath when he decided he had better pull down the window shade. In reaching for it he stepped on the soap and the next moment was sitting on the pavement. Except for a wince of shoulder he was unhurt and scuttled into the house at the earliest opportunity.

Judge O.A. Rosalsky
Scores Henry Ford
As Menace to U. S.

Wealthy Automobile Maker
Attacked by Jurist as Ignorant
Because of His
Anti-Semitic Propaganda

Henry Ford, of Detroit, was singled out yesterday by Judge Otto A. Rosalsky in his chambers as "the greatest menace to American institutions" because of his professed anti-Semitism.

Judge Rosalsky had been presented by the Daughters of Jacob with a new judicial robe, and a check for $100 in thanking the organization for its gift.

He said he had in mind a law that would make it a crime for any person to libel a race, or a group of people, or a particular sect, or denomination. He said he was confident if "this ignorant man" Ford were brought before a criminal court under such a law as he outlined "justice would be done to him."

Saying that the anti-Semitism that now prevails in certain parts of the world is "an attack by the unthinking," Judge Rosalsky remarked in this connection that "a man like Ford is the greatest menace to American institutions, first, because he is an ignorant man; secondly, because he uses his wealth improperly, and third, he is not inspired with the teachings and lessons of Americanism."

Baron Fights to Take
Son From Heiress Wife

De Korwin Separated at Start of the War When the Former
Miss Young Came to U. S.

CHICAGO, Dec. 24.—Divided allegiance in the World War, which broke out just at the time their son was born, was followed to-day by an attempt of Baron Joseph De Korwin, former captain in the Polish army, to obtain custody of his six-year-old son, now in the care of Mrs. Cecile Young Heyworth De Korwin, heiress of an estate valued at $25,000,000.

Baron De Korwin, who was a captain in the Austrian army when the war broke out, says he has not seen his son since 1914. In his bill Captain De Korwin says his wife agreed to take the child to Switzerland during the war, but that she came to America and sympathized with the Allied cause, while the captain fought for Austria. Application for his son's return to him was made in a writ of habeas corpus before Judge McKelvey in Superior Court today, but the case was continued until December 30.

Admiral Refuses Honor
In Favor of Older Man

Assistant Paymaster General Asserts Senior Officer Should Succeed McGowan

From The Tribune's Washington Bureau.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—Rear Admiral Christian J. Peoples, assistant to the Paymaster General of the Navy, today informed Secretary of the Navy Daniels that he does not desire promotion as Paymaster General, to succeed Rear Admiral Samuel McGowan, who retires December 31. Admiral Peoples based his declination of the post of head of the supply corps on the fact that he is the youngest Rear Admiral in the service and there are numerous officers in senior, who should be given the honor.

Admiral Peoples has been associated with Admiral McGowan in administering the pay corps and supply department of the navy throughout the war and made an excellent record. In declining the advancement to chief of the bureau, he informed Secretary Daniels that he believed he could be of greater service to the navy by making a tour of the navy yards and supply centers of the navy to inaugurate business methods in the administration of these branches. Admiral Peoples is an expert in administrative work and he believes that reorganization of the branch supply stations of the navy on the same scale as the bureau of supplies of the department has been reorganized during the McGowan-Peoples regime will be of great value to the service.

Secretary Daniels had not determined today what action he would take on Admiral Peoples's suggestion.

Crime in Boston Increases
Property Valued at $1,630,000
Stolen in Last Year

Boston, Dec. 24.—Difficulties involved in making over the Police Department after the strike of September, 1919, were shown today, when Commissioner Edwin U. Curtis in his annual report, said seventy-three members of the new force had to be dismissed for various offenses and 231 resigned, fifty-five under fire. During the previous year, twelve were discharged and twenty-eight resigned. None of the figures quoted included the changes due directly to the strike. Six men were discharged during the last year for joining an organization forbidden by the rules of the department.

The increase in crime was indicated by the Commissioner's report, which placed the amount of property stolen in the fiscal year ended November 30 at $1,630,000, as compared with $202,014 in 1916. The loss by theft last year was $1,115,486.

Caruso Sings "La Juive"
And Then Attends Party

Famous Tenor at His Best, Although Still Suffering From Intermittent Neuralgia

Enrico Caruso appeared in "La Juive" at the Metropolitan Opera House last night and sang as though he never had heard of intermittent neuralgia, although it was said that he still was suffering slightly from the malady. The audience applauded him wildly at the end of every act.

He was well enough to have his picture taken before the performance and afterward went to a Christmas tree party arranged for his small daughter at the Hotel Vanderbilt.

Others who took part in the opera were Florence Easton, Orville Harrold and Leon Rothier.

The season's first performance of "Madama Butterfly" was given yesterday afternoon at the Metropolitan Opera House, with Miss Geraldine Farrar in the title role. Her impersonation of the Japanese girl was delightfully free from exaggeration.

She gave her customary and touching portrayal of the little woman of Japan, victim of the eternal illusion, and in the scenes with the child rose to thrilling heights of maternal ecstasy. There was a new Pinkerton, Mario Chamlee, who sang and acted with distinction. Mr. Scotti, too, was at his best as Sharpless. Altogether it was an excellent performance.

The Stage Door

Sam H. Harris will present Grant Mitchell in "The Champion," a comedy by Thomas Loudon and A. E. Thomas, at the Longacre Theater on Monday, January 3. Ann Andrews will have the role opposite Mr. Mitchell.

There will be an unusual Christmas party at the Hippodrome to-day when, beginning at 10 and lasting for two hours, until matinee time, the children of the 1,240 singers, dancers, swimmers, divers, specialty artists, musicians, mechanics and others who make up the big Hippodrome family will gather around the tree on the stage of the playhouse. The party will take place in the setting of the Toyland Scene in the midst of huge dolls and mechanical toys.

General John J. Pershing occupied a box at Fred Stone's Christmas eve performance in "Tip Top" at the Globe Theater.

Edward Elmer has been engaged to take charge of the rehearsals of "The Rose Girl."

William Archer, the English dramatic critic, whose first play, "The Green Goddess," will soon be produced at one of the New York theaters, is now making a lecture tour of the country. He will choose as his subject, "Three British Playwrights—Shaw, Galsworthy and Barrie."

Lee Shubert is of the opinion that this year's Christmas business will be larger than at any time since the war.

"The coming week I confidently expect to be one of the largest from point of receipts for legitimate theaters for a great many seasons," he said.
